More homeless found in West Sac and Yolo in 2009

From Beth Gabor
County of Yolo

The federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) requires that a point-in-time homeless count occur within specific guidelines in order to qualify for Continuum of Care/ Supportive Housing Program (SHP) funding. Yolo County homeless service providers currently receive about $415,000 in SHP funding. The count also provides information that allows service providers to target their services to meet the specific needs of the homeless in our communities.

The Yolo County Homeless & Poverty Action Coalition (HPAC) conducted a count of the homeless individuals in Yolo County on January 29.

Workers found 230 homeless people living in West Sacramento, including 26 children under 18. There were 145 homeless people in Woodland, 114 in Davis and two in rural parts of the county. . About two-thirds of the adults were men.

The count included a survey and was a collaborative effort of community volunteers, including homeless and formerly homeless individuals, HPAC members and partner agencies. The survey included both sheltered and unsheltered homeless individuals and families. The survey of sheltered individuals occurred the night before the street count and included emergency shelters, transitional housing, and hotel/motel voucher programs. It did not include waiting lists or those staying in motels the night of the count. The unsheltered homeless count included those sleeping in places not meant for human habitation under HUD guidelines.

Many individuals and families move in and out of homelessness over the course of a year. The Corporation for Supportive Housing estimates that 5 to 10 percent of low-income households in a community may experience homelessness at some point during a 12-month period. Applying this to Yolo County, and using data from the 2000 U.S. Census, it is estimated between 1,119 and 2,238 people in the Yolo County community may experience homelessness over the course of a year.

The overall count was up by approximately 19 percent (or 77 individuals) from 2007. There was an increase in the number of homeless in Davis and West Sacramento. Davis was up by 28 individuals and West Sacramento was up by 92 individuals. However, in Woodland we saw a decrease of 36 individuals. This reflects changes in both the sheltered and unsheltered counts:

- In the unsheltered count there was an increase in the West Sacramento count from 107 to 201 individuals and in Woodland from 37 to 52 individuals.
- In the sheltered count, Davis increased from 53 to 80 individuals and Woodland decreased from 144 to 93 individuals. The primary reason for the decrease in the number of sheltered individuals in Woodland was program cuts due to reductions in funding for the transitional housing programs at the Yolo Wayfarer Center. There were 111 individuals counted in 2007 and 52 individuals in 2009. The following graph compares 2007 and 2009 sheltered totals.

West Sacramento City Council Member Mark Johannessen stated, "Participating in this year's homeless count was a real eye opener. These are folks, including families with children, who for a variety of unfortunate circumstances have lost their homes and have no other place to go. This count, and pushing forward with the ten-year planning process, will go a long way to educate people about our homeless situation and provide solid direction needed to address the problem that affects us all."

The HPAC is an affiliation of public sector groups and private, non-profit agencies. Its mission is to provide leadership on homelessness and poverty in Yolo County with the vision to create and sustain a comprehensive, coordinated and balanced array of human services for homeless and low-income individuals and families within Yolo County.

The Yolo County Board of Supervisors and the cities of Davis, West Sacramento, Winters and Woodland are sponsoring a ten-year planning process for ending and preventing homelessness. It will be available for public comment in the fall of 2009. A community working forum is being planned. For more information about it, contact Bridget Kurtt DeJong, e-mail: bridget@homebaseccc.org.

For more information on the HPAC and the homeless county, contact Janice Critchlow (916) 924-0534.

A sobering message

Graphic message is meant to get teens to think again about drinking and driving

Students at River City High School yesterday morning filed past the scene of an accident – a scene complete with crashed cars, rescue personnel, an ambulance, helicopter, police and blood.

Fake blood.

The event was a kind staged every two years at many high schools. Called "Every 15 Minutes," the graphic accident simulation is meant to drive home the reality of the dangers of drunk driving. At yesterday morning's display, actors were made up with fake injuries.

There was one "arrest," one "death" and one teen who was "feared" to be left paralyzed after the two-car crash. Nearby, a costumed "grim reaper" looked on.

A reporter thought the juniors and seniors viewing the incident were either unfazed, or simply trying to look unfazed by the sights.

Principal Stuart MacKay told the News-Ledger that, whether they show it or not, students are getting the message.

"It does work," he said.

The school has scheduled an assembly this morning to follow up on the anti-drunk driving message.

Bomb scare: RCHS student is arrested

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

A 16-year old student has been arrested following a bomb scare Friday at River City High School.

Principal Stuart MacKay reported that the fake bomb was discovered by a campus monitor making a "routine sweep" of school restrooms at about 8:30 a.m. The device was found in a boys' restroom in G building.

Officer Marc Kirkland, who is assigned to work on the campus, notified the police and fire departments. The Yolo County bomb squad also responded. Students in G building and adjacent buildings were moved to the gym, where police felt they would be safe.

Police sent in a robot to deactivate the gadget.

Lieutenant Tom Bowler described the robot this way:

"The way it's equipped is pretty impressive. You can drive it right up to where you want it to look. It's on a fiberoptic cable. It will take 'still' photographs or video, and it has two mechanical arms that can lift things. It can go up or down stairs."

The robot encountered a "bomb" that had "some level of sophistication," added Bowler. Police suspected the device was a hoax, but treated it as potentially dangerous.

Principal MacKay, who saw the device later, described it as "looking like a small calculator or kitchen timer about two or three inches wide. . . with duct tape on it and two electric wires coming from the top, going to a device made to look like batteries."

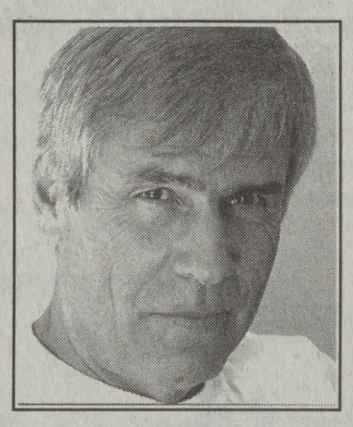
Television commercials a guy can live without

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

I was talking to a longtime friend the other evening and the conversation somehow turned to the subject of all the horrible advertisements on television nowadays which are specifically directed towards men of our particular age group.

"I'm so sick and tired of hearing about the latest miracle drug for `weak stream', or `male enhancement', or `erectile dysfunction'," said my friend with emphasis. "Can't the pharmaceutical companies just let us poor old guys age with a little bit of grace and dignity?"

"Are you kidding?" I said. "The drugs they're always advertising for those kinds of problems are some of their biggest money makers. Our medical miseries end up being their bonus checks."

"I suppose you're right, but every time I turn on the television – especially if it's a sporting event I want to watch – there's nothing but wall-to-wall Viagra and Cialis ads. You know, the ones where some not quite over-the-hill couple – with romantic music playing in the background and both of them looking all googley-eyed at each other — are trying everything they can to put the sex back into their relationship. Heck, if I tried to get all lovey-dovey like that with my wife all the time she'd probably throw me out of the house. And I bet poor old Elvis turns over in his grave every time he hears that `Viva Viagra' commercial."

"I think I actually dislike those Flomax commercials the most," I said to my friend.

"Why's that?"

"Well, just the name of the drug for starters. I wonder what clever ad man came up with that?"

"Hey, don't they have a drug that is always being advertised for women that is supposed to fix the exact opposite problem in them? You know, those ads where some poor woman is sitting at a movie or some other public event and then she suddenly has to jump up and race off to the bathroom."

"Now you see," I said, "that's exactly the point I'm trying to make, that most everyone our age – be they a man or a woman – has some kind of problem with going to the bathroom, but that's no reason for baby boomers everywhere to suddenly start popping a bunch of pills with lots of heavy side-effects. I mean, in the case of Flomax for instance, you're supposed to take it before bedtime so you won't notice how dizzy and light-headed it can make you. Heck, I'd much rather have a problem going to the bathroom than have a problem being dizzy and light-headed. Plus did you know that Flomax is another one of those drugs that can cause four-hour erections?"

"Really? Geez, it seems like just about every pill they want a man to swallow nowadays can send him to an emergency room looking really stupid!"

"By the way," I said, "I read somewhere that Viagra is the best selling drug to come along since Prozac – something like 20 million men are taking it – or have at least talked to their doctor about taking it. Can you believe that?"

"Well," said my friend, "no way am I ever taking Viagra."

"Why's that?"

"Because a relative of mine takes it and he let me read the instructions they gave him warning about all the possible nasty side-effects – in addition to that four-hour erection thing that everyone already knows about."

"Like what?"

"Like developing really bad headaches – and a sudden drop in blood pressure – and coital coronaries?"

"Coital coronaries? You mean dropping dead while you're having sex?"

"That's right."

"Yuck."

"Can you imagine that?"

"I don't even want to try."

"Well, let me tell you, my wife would kill me if I ever dropped dead while we were making love! She doesn't even like to have a dead fly in her bedroom – not to mention what all her chatty little work friends would do with a really juicy piece of gossip like that. Oh, and did I mention that in addition to killer headaches, low blood pressure, and coital coronaries, some guys also get really bad blurred vision, or start seeing things with a green or blue halo around them, or even end up with temporary blindness when they take Viagra or Cialis? Now can you imagine that? Going blind just to be a better lover?"

I shook my head 'no'.

"Hey, why are you smiling?"

"Well," I said, "I was just trying to imagine what it would be like to have to sit around in a crowded emergency room some night blind as a bat for four hours waiting for things to return to normal."

Sac man sentenced for 2007 carjacking in West Sacramento

A man has received a "maximum" sentence for a 2007 carjacking in West Sacramento, reports the Yolo County District Attorney's office.

Last month, a Yolo County jury convicted Miguel Angel Castillo of Sacramento of the carjacking.

According to the D.A.'s office: "Castillo went to the Merritt Landing boat ramp in West Sacramento on July 30th, 2007, and stuck a sawed-off shotgun in the face of a man who was sitting in his truck. Castillo told him to get out of the truck if he didn't want to die."

"Days later," Sacramento police spotted Castillo, who fled but was captured.

Open letter to city council

I am the president of the West Sacramento Art Guild and for over one year we have been meeting at the museum to conduct our meetings and show the art of local West Sacramento artists. Since the old Turner Library closed, and the temporary facility is short of space, the West Sacramento Historical Society has partnered with us and permitted us to use their facility. This has been the only facility which serves as an art gallery/historical museum. Please don't close this facility in June, 2009.

AGNES NILSEN
President, West Sacramento Art Guild

Thanks

We would like to thank the city of West Sacramento, Mayor Cabaldon, Barbara Moore, and Oscar Villegas for inviting us to the State of the City Address and the recognition we received for community service. We would like to publicly acknowledge the many acts of kindness from our neighbors over the years, including gift certificates and pies. At this time we have neighbors, Mike and Tina Rudes, who live adjacent to the vacant lot we care for, who now assist us in mowing and watering. We also appreciate the support from motorists and passersby in the form of honks and thumbs-up when we are picking up litter and painting out graffiti at the Westacre Underpass.

OBITUARIES

Joyce Duncan

Joyce Duncan passed away on April 26, 2009 at the age of 83. She was preceded in death by her husband, John Duncan, and her brother, Harlan Short. She was the beloved mother of Sandy Kramer (Gary), John Duncan (Helen), and Wayne Duncan (Denise); the cherished grandmother of Kevin, Keith, Cristal, Holly, Benny, Sarah, and Bekah; the great grandmother of five, with one more on the way; and the sister of Norman Short and Ralph Short.

Joyce was a longtime resident of West Sacramento and will be great missed and remembered for her love of family and friends, and her love of gardening and flowers.

Services will be held at the West Sacramento Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints on May 1, 2009 at 10 am. Arrangements were handled by River Cities Funeral Chapel.

Wallace "Chuck" Towle

Chuck Towle passed away in Sacramento on April 20, 2009 at the age of 89. He was the beloved companion of 31 years to Millie Smith; the loving father of Joyce (Jim) Flohr; the devoted grandfather of Mike and Wendy, Jeff and Lisa, Chuck and Kris, Rick and Allison, and Greg; and the great grandfather of Ryan and Kelsi. He is also survived by his daughter-in-law, Darlene. He was preceded in death by his mother, Edna Glise Towle; his first wife, Mary; his son, Charles; his grandson, Joey; his great granddaughter, Elizabeth; and his siblings, Grace, Lois, Carolyn, Harry, Verna and Verlie.

Chuck honorably served his country in the Navy during WWII and was a life member of VFW Post #8762 of West Sacramento.

Funeral services were held on April 27, 2009 in the River Cities Funeral Chapel. Interment was at East Lawn Sierra Hills Cemetery.

James Bozeman

James Bozeman passed away on April 22, 2009. He and his wife operated Bozeman and Son's Glass Company and raised their family in West Sacramento where they were active and supportive of many community organizations. They later moved to the Oak Park community where he ran his business and continued to be active in local community services.

James is survived by his wife of 62 years, Betty Bozeman; his beloved children, Becky Martinez, Mark Bozeman and Jim Bozeman; seven grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren; five brothers; and a host of other loving relatives and friends.

Friends are welcome to attend a celebration of his life Memorial Service on May 2, 2009 at 2 pm at Fourteenth Avenue Baptist Church, 6240 14th Avenue. Service provided by Morgan Jones Chapel of Chimes. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Alzheimer Association or charity of choice.

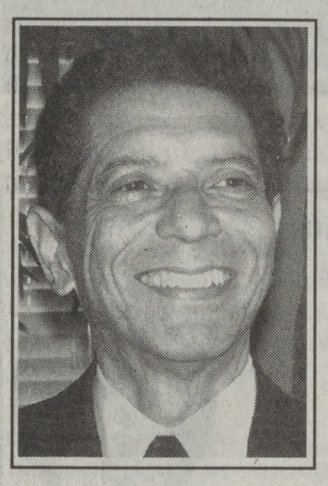
SPORTS

SPORTS INSIDER



By Richard Novoa

The 2009 NFL draft has come and gone leaving hard nose football fans wondering if their favorite team made the right selection while the NFL owners ponder if they have invested their millions in the NFL star of the future. The Detroit Lions have created the newest millionaire by signing their No. 1 pick, Georgia quarterback Matthew Stafford, to a six-year $72 million contract the day before the draft to prevent a player holdout.

The last-place Lions guaranteed Stafford a record $41.7 million, up 39% from a year ago when the Miami Dolphins guaranteed offensive tackle Jake Long $30 million in the top spot. Five years ago, quarterback Eli Manning's guarantee from the New York Giants was $20 million.

The New York Jets traded the farm to the Cleveland Browns to move up to the fifth spot to select USC quarterback Mark Sanchez. The Jets packaged a bundle of players, cash and draft picks to grab the NFL's newest Hispanic star of the league. Is he worth it? Only time will tell!

I still can't understand why the NFL doesn't have a rule like the NBA to put a cap on contracts for rookies. Paying outrageous salaries, some guaranteed, to players who haven't play a down in the NFL is crazy and doesn't make business sense.

Speaking of crazy, Al Davis and his crew shook up the football world again by selecting Maryland wide receiver Darrius Heyward-Bey with the Raiders' seventh choice. Heyward-Bey is probably the fastest guy in the draft but the Raiders could have traded down to select the speedster passing the No.1 ranked wide receiver Michael Crabtree. Heyward-Bey, who was clocked at 4.3 seconds in the 40-yard dash, has only caught 13 TD's in three years at Maryland.

The Raiders also tried to fill in some voids in their defense by selecting safety Michael Mitchell with their 47th pick to provide the Silver and Black with a hard hitting tackler for their weak secondary. The Raiders finished up the draft selecting defensive end Matt Shaghnessy, wide receiver Louis Murphy from Florida and two other defensive ends in Slade Norris and Stryker Sulak.

So how did the Niners do in the draft? Lucky for the 49ers that Al Davis loves track stars because the Niners, who just happened to be shopping around for a top-notch wide out, jumped all over Crabtree with their first round pick. The Niners needed defensive players but Coach Singletary would have to be out of his mind to pass on the consensus two-time All-American from Texas Tech. Crabtree lead the nation in 2007 with 134 catches for 1,962 yards and finished last year with 97 catches for 1,165 yards with 41 TD's in two seasons!

The Niners did OK in the draft by adding another top running back in Alabama's Glen Coffee but they didn't get to address their need for a good pass rusher by adding Pittsburgh linebacker Scott McKillop and LSU defensive end Ricky Jean-Francois. The Niners did add a strong armed quarterback in Ball State, Nate Davis, who I hope he can get the ball to Crabtree.

Next year the NFL is planning to televise the NFL Draft at prime time! Yes, that's right - the draft would be on Thursday night followed by the second round on Friday night! Only in America!

Kings Korner

While the NBA playoffs are in the first round, the Kings are in the news again, but this time it was for firing their interim Coach Kenny Natt. The Kings will begin the interview process in the coming month but don't hold your breath as General Manager Geoff Petrie tries to right a sinking ship.

Petrie, who has one year left on this $4.6 million contract, has two major decisions left to fulfill before the Maloofs give him the axe. First, he must hire a head coach that will last longer than one year and second he must draft a couple of good players with the Kings' two first-round picks to help rebuild the franchise!

Let's take a look at the NBA playoffs. My predictions are still on track with the Lakers finishing off Utah (4-1) on Monday and King James and his Cavs taking the broom to the Pistons. The Nuggets (3-1) have the Hornets in a buzz, the Rockets (3-1) are taking off on Portland and the Mavs (3-1) are winning the battle of Texas or San Antonio.

The best series are in the more competitive Eastern Conference with the Magic and 76ers tied at three and Atlanta and Miami (2-2) preparing to go seven games but Dwayne Wade in hurting. The Chicago Bulls (2-2) have the defending champion Celtics reeling so expect another overtime thriller to decide the series. The key to a Bulls victory is the severity of shooting guard Ben Gordon's pulled hamstring injury.

Diamond Notes

The Giants (9-9) are hosting the Dodgers this week and it was Barry Zito, who pitched another great game on Monday night holding Los Angeles to two runs in 7 innings. Zito has now had two good outing in a row and cutting his ERA in half to 5.24.

The G-Men, who have won 5 of their last 6 games, will continue this week hosting the Dodgers before the Rockies come to AT& T Park for a three game weekend series. The A's (7-10) are on the road during the week playing in Texas follow by a weekend series starting on Friday in Seattle.

River Cats

The Cats (11-8), who are leading the Pacific South Division by 3 1/2 games, are home this week against the Las Vegas 51's. The Cats are being lead by Eric Patterson .333 batting average and his modest eight game hitting streak. Patterson is working hard to impress the Oakland A's who are in badly need of some pop in their line-up. Patterson has played in the Majors Leagues three times in his young career including a couple of stints with the Chicago Cubs in 2007 and 30 games with the A's last season.

The Cats will be at Raley Field for a short home stand before they head to Colorado

Raider tennis wins three more, goes to 18-1

The River City High School Tennis Team defeated Foothill 8 to 1, El Dorado 8 to 1, and Cosumnes Oaks 9 to 0 before wrapping up last week with a first place finish at the 31st Annual Quincy Invitational Tournament. The Raiders are now 14 and 0 in the Capital Valley Conference (CVC) and 18 and 1 overall this season.

Against Foothill in a CVC contest, RC dominated the girls events as Lydia Maystruk dropped just two games at #1 girls singles and fellow senior Marisa Arellano lost just one game at #2. Ranika Prasad and Tuyet Hoang won 10-1 in the top girls doubles position and Sarah Aguilar teamed up with Monica Anaya for a 10-0 shutout at #2.

El Dorado of the Pioneer Valley League came to West Sacramento on Wednesday and the host Raiders were led by Maystruk's 8-2 win in the #1 girls singles contest and Aguilar's 8-1 performance at #2. Prasad and Hoang again partnered for an 8-2 victory at #1 girls doubles, Arellano and Lai Saetern won 8-4 at #2, and Anaya and Phi Dinh cruised 8-1 in mixed doubles. Wins on the boys side came from Vongsri Vang 8-4 at #2 singles, Thomas Thao and Trevor Langford 9-8(2) in #1 boys doubles, and Tou Vang and Rudy Maltez 8-3 at #2.

Several Raiders played successfully at the varsity level for the first time in their high school careers at Cosumnes Oaks. Connor Conrad and Terry Vang earned a 10-6 win at #2 boys doubles, and Elizabeth Maniulit teamed up with Christine Maltez for a 10-5 victory in the #2 girls doubles spot. Other doubles wins were earned by the duos of Michelle Truong and Tony Yang (mixed), Tou Vang and Rudy Maltez (#1 boys), and Anaya and Lai Saetern (#1 girls). In singles action, Vongsri Vang, Victor Vang won on the boys side while Aguilar and Katharina Najork swept the girls contests.

The Raiders defended their team title up in Quincy where Maystruk took the girls singles bracket, and Aguilar and Anaya defeated Maystruk and Najork for the girls doubles crown. Aguilar also came in third in girls singles. Jim Saetern and Phi Dinh fell to a team from Quincy in the championship match of the boys doubles event, settling for second place. Both RC mixed doubles pairs, Dinh and Anaya as well as Langford and Najork, reached the semifinals before losing to teams from Mt. Shasta. The Raider duos will square off later this week at RC to determine which will earn the third place trophies. In the final team standings, the Raiders were followed by Etna, Quincy, and Mt. Shasta.

Up next for River City will be a non-league match today at home against Bret Harte of the Mother Lode League. And then CVC play wraps up this week with a home contest vs. Sacramento Country Day on Thursday April 30th, and a match at Rio Linda on Friday May 1st. All of the matches begin at 4pm.

Port's high school rowing club winds up its season

Part of the RCRC 'varsity four' in action Sunday at Oakland (courtesy of Eric LaBolle)

From Sharon Premzic River City Rowing Club

The River City Rowing Club (RCRC) Junior Crew competed in its final league race of the season last Sunday.

On a sunny, breezy morning, crews from RCRC (Port of West Sacramento), Jack London Aquatic Center, Stanford Rowing, Stockton Rowing Club, Oakland Strokes, Serra High School (San Mateo), Palo Alto Rowing Club, and Berkeley High School faced off on the 2000 meter Oakland Estuary course on Sunday.

In their best showing of the season, RCRC competed in 16 races and came home with 10 first place finishes. Sam Warren and Clair Premzic started the team off with a win in the women's double race, when they completed the course in 8:38.5, leading the field of 5 boats.

Next, the men's novice 8 finished strongly to win the closest race of the day, beating out a boat from Berkeley by just 0.6 seconds with a time of 7:26.2. The 8 was commanded by coxswain Oliver Darwish and rowed by Ian Robertson (stroke), Tammer LaBolle, Graham Linley, Doran Joy, John Mark Hopkins, Fatima Sy, JP Dugyon, and Liam Cox.

RCRC rowers Carson Green and Sam Warren won the men's and women's singles races handily with times of 8:50.8 and 9:20.7, respectively.

Next up, the women's novice 8 finished 2nd (8:02.6), 8 seconds behind Berkeley, in a boat coxed by Claire Coleman, and rowed by Bridget Mazet (stroke), Sage Purkey, JuliAnn Machschefes, Fatima Sy, Monica LeFlore, Danya Axelrad-Hausman, Vanessa Rivas-Bernardy, and Catherine Dugyon.

Another RCRC win was secured by Chelsea Pugh and Candace Kelly when they beat 3 boats in the women's lightweight 4 race, finishing with a time of 9:03.3.

Eating on $4/day

Assemblymember Mariko Yamada

West Sacramento Mayor Christopher Cabaldon mentioned at the "State of the City" address that he was taking the "Food Stamp Challenge."

So is the region's Assemblywoman, Mariko Yamada.

The "challenge" is an effort to help raise hunger awareness. Assemblymember Yamada (D-Davis)and others rising to this "challenge" are attempting to live on the same amount of money that food stamp recipients get to buy groceries. Participants try to live for one week on the nation's average weekly food stamp benefit of $20 - that's $4 per day, $1.33 per meal.

"The Food Stamp Challenge brings home the struggle that many Americans face on a daily basis," said Yamada. "Managing on a food stamp budget restricts access to the healthiest foods such as lean proteins, fruits and vegetables, and requires much advance planning."

The rules are simple: Eat breakfast, lunch and dinner spending only $1.33 a meal for five days, or $20 total. The challenge is to see if healthy, tasty meals can be prepared on the same grocery budget used by millions of Americans receiving food stamp benefits.

Assemblymember Yamada began her challenge last Monday and continued through Friday. Partly through the week, she has already spent almost $19.30 on the following:

one box of Cheerios
1/2 gallon fat-free milk
1/2 gallon orange juice
one loaf butter-topped wheat bread
one package of oven-baked turkey breast
4 1bs of bananas (overripe, $.39 per pound)
1 package frozen stir-fry vegetables
2 chicken half-breasts
1 6-pack Top Ramen
1 carton of tofu
5 6 oz. containers of fat-free yogurt

She also gave up one of her favorite things, coffee, because she could not afford to buy it.

The Food Stamp Program helps feed more than 2 million low-income Californians, more than half of which are children and eight percent are over 60 years of age. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, which is responsible for administering the Food Stamp Program, the nationwide average monthly benefit is $94.05.

Assemblymember Yamada "blogged" about her experiences on the Yolo County Food Bank website: http://yolofoodbank.blogspot.com/2009/04/food-stamp-challenge_14.html

in charge actually are concerned (beyond "I feel your pain") about our community's needs, hopes and aspirations. I have every confidence that given enough opportunity, we'll iron out most of the wrinkles in the way of achieving what is now known as our "vision."

My concerns for the communities of Bryte and Broderick are, in no particular order: Improved Street Lighting by simple replacement of either just the existing bulbs, and/or their fixtures if that is a more efficient and less costly way;

Contiguous, poured concrete sidewalks throughout our neighborhoods to reflect that hopefully improved lighting, thereby keeping pedestrians off of the roadways, especially at night, and hopefully lower the crime rate as well (Chief Drummond agrees with me on that one).;

Keeping our Historic Bryte Station Postal Annex on Lisbon open. As it is, in the opinion of many of the residents with whom I've spoken over the past 23 years, a vital connection for many in the immigrant community, especially the older ones whose children or grand children have moved away and physical, age-related infirmities, or language barriers preclude their going to the Broderick or West Sacramento branches (Yes, even by bus - and don't expect them to embrace the internet or having government officials over to their homes to pick up their packages to be sent to the old country).;

Turning the intersection of Lisbon and Solano into a four way stop. The Bryteway Market is at the northeast corner, and I cannot even guess how many near misses I've personally witnessed as pedestrians, many with young children, attempt to cross as vehicles blaze their way from Bryte Ave. to Sunset Ave.. (And, no. Setting up "speed traps" is, at best, a temporary impediment to the situation. Not a cure. No matter how many visions of dollars dance in the heads of politicians or their administrators.);

Easier access to information contained in the GIS archives, or elsewhere.

I know that I can, at times, be abrasive. I am, however, dedicated to achieving a true renaissance, if you will, of this far too often ignored corner of our improving, face lifting, boot strapping city.

The robot knocked the wire connection apart.

"It shoots a blast of water which can defuse whatever you're looking at," said Bowler.

With the device was a note, saying that unless the bomber's demands were met, there would be more fires on campus, said Bowler and MacKay. The campus had fire or smoke in a bathroom the prior week.

No actual demand details were included in the note.

Police recovered the note and the device.

Two police dogs searched the campus for other possible explosives, and found none. Later, the investigation focused on the 16-year old student.

"We found a suspect, police interviewed the suspect, and they visited his home," reported Principal MacKay.

Lt. Bowler confirmed that the youth was arrested and taken to juvenile hall. His name was not released due to his age.

The principal said the new Southport campus has not experienced serious problems with fires or vandalism since it opened in January.

"We haven't had any serious incidents of vandalism," said MacKay, listing those he could remember. "There were a couple of incidents of graffiti at the very beginning, but it was with a black pen on tile and was immediately cleaned up. We had someone scratch some graffiti another time, and that was cleaned up. Some kids were fooling around and one put his head into some drywall, and that hole was repaired and I believe the student was charged for that. There was a towel rack broken in a restroom."

And "there was a week when somebody egged the cafeteria and sprayed some graffiti in it."

But the damage has remained at a "nuisance" level, he said.

Sara Vincent, Hannah Purkey, Claire Finn, and Mara Behar brought home another RCRC win in their women's JV 4 race (8:51.1), ahead of the crew from Berkeley by nearly 30 seconds.

The men's pairs race featured 3 strong RCRC teams, which came in first (Carson Green and Nick Kline, 7:39.8), third (Chris Weber and Dillon Zall), and fourth (Nick Auvil and Evan Hudson).

An RCRC lightweight 8 boat combining novice and varsity rowers also took first in their race (7:54.5) which was coxed by Monika Darwish and rowed by Chelsea Pugh (stroke), Candace Kelly, Claire Finn, Sarah Vincent, Monica LeFlore, Mara Behar, Alzada Roche, and Catherine Dugyon.

The women's varsity 4 also came home victorious (8:41), commanded by cox Amy Egerter and rowed by Sam Warren (stroke), Clair Premzic, Chelsea Pugh, and Candace Kelly.

The final RCRC first place finish of the day was secured by the men's novice 4 team of coxwain Oliver Darwish and rowers Tammer LeBolle, Graham Linley, JP Dugyon, and Liam Cox.

The women's novice 4 boat finished a close second to Palo Alto in the final RCRC race of the day, which was coxed by Claire Coleman and rowed by Bridget Mazet, Sage Purkey, JuliAnn Machschefes and Monica LeFlore.

RCRC also entered boats in the women's lightweight 4 (cox Monika Darwish and rowers Claire Finn, Mara Behar, Danya Axelrad-Hausman, and Catherine Dugyon), the men's JV 4 (cox Ben Degang and rowers Manraj Dhesi, Evan Roper, Kalen Bergado, and Jacob Machschefes), and the men's lightweight 4 (cox Oliver Darwish and rowers Kalen Bergado, Evan Roper, JP Dugyon and Liam Cox), which all competed strongly and came in fourth, fourth, and fifth, respectively.

RCRC returns to action on May 9 - 10, when they'll compete in the US Rowing Southwest Regional Junior Championships at Lake Natoma.

Soccer

The swine flu in Mexico has taken its toll in the world of sports with the Mexican Soccer Federation banning fans from attending soccer games last Sunday. Health experts recommended that citizens avoid large concentrations of people in which the virus could be spread. 50,000 fans were reimbursed more than $500,000 in Mexico City to stay home and watch it on T.V.

FIGHT FOR SCIOTS' QUEEN WITHIN GRASP OF MISS M'DONALD

Nearly every day of the past week Miss Sylvada McDonald led in the contest for Queen of the Sciots Festival and Industrial Exposition.

To her support there is coming now the voluntary aid of nearly all the residents of Yolo County, and a canvass made in Woodland the other day brought valuable aid to the young lady.

Other towns of Yolo County have entered the campaign, such as Davis, Winters, Yolo, Blacks and Dunnigan.

These towns are not unmindful of Queen contests of the past when

SYLVADA McDONALD

Washington did more than its share in making festivals held in Woodland a great success.

Miss McDonald has brought to her aid a host of young men from this side of the river who knew her when she was a little child. They esteem her for her endearing qualifications and would love to see her grace the throne of the Sciot's Queen.

And it is not only on this side of the river that she is gaining ground. All the labor unions in Sacramento have flocked to her banner and are doing what they may for her victory.

The headquarters of the festival committee in the Native Sons building is thronged all day with friends of the contestants. There are some very wealthy young ladies in the race who aim to win, but so far have not been able to pass Miss McDonald in the fight.

Participants in the contest should remember that every ticket bought entitles the holder to a chance for the automobile that is to be given away at the festival.

Yesterday's score showed:

Sylvada McDonald	13,700
Ruth Reed	12,550
Alberta Starkey	11,750
Mary Dixon	11,350

FIRE COMMISSIONERS ELECTED IN WASHINGTON LAST MONDAY

At the election held in the Town Hall last Monday, J. S. Lear, Sydney T. Richard and Walter J. Leinberger were elected without opposition as fire commissioners to serve during the coming year.

One of their duties will be to look out for the Town Hall and to see that proper fighting apparatus is available to fight fires within the district.

There was no opposition at the election because the old trustees, Ike Manchester and A. Dassonville, refused to serve again.

Only a light vote was cast, the total being 43.

Hilt for the summer where he will be engaged in lumbering.

C. H. Williams has returned to his home in Seaside after a week's visit with relatives in Washington.

P. A. Hart and family and Mrs. E. Reinersman motored Sunday to Folsom.

Clarence Moser has returned from spending the week-end in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Ford motored down from Roseville last Sunday, and with Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Cook and Mrs. Ann Chambers visited in Woodland.

Mrs. F. L. White, Sr., is in Berkeley visiting her daughter, Mrs. William Hughes.

Probation Officer A. A. Powers visited Riverbank Thursday to investigate the complaint that certain boys, whose names have not been made public, broke into the schoolhouse and ransacked lockers. It is alleged that a good deal of small stuff was stolen, but the amount involved in the affair has not been stated.

MOVING PICTURE SHOW MADE GREAT SUCCESS IN WASHINGTON

Last Tuesday night the first moving picture show that was ever seen in Washington was witnessed by a good crowd of residents of the town and surrounding districts.

Outside of dances and amateur theatricals this was the first show ever seen at this side of the river.

Under the Direction of Dr. T. H. Dixon the show promises to be a great success and he is certainly not saving any expense to make it deserving of the support of the people of Yolo County.

He has the unqualified support of Mrs. Dixon, who gives her undivided attention to the management of several theatres owned and operated by them.

Dr. Dixon has not failed to observe that it is advisable in cases of this kind to employ local talent to help in the theatre. For instance, Mrs. Olga Machado has been engaged to play the piano and Miss Lillian Lear has charge of the box office. Both of these young ladies are now popular boosters for the Welcome Theatre and their friends are regular attendants at the showhouse.

Precautions have been taken to safeguard against fire. The stairway on the east side of the building has been extended to the ground, but was formerly only used as a fire escape. The operating room has been mostly fireproofed and will be finished later on.

Nearly all the residents of the town are very much in favor of this first enterprise of a public character. Other like enterprises will likely come along later on so that Washington will build up as it deserves to build.

The new board of fire trustees will take office next Monday evening and will act in conjunction with Dr. Dixon to look after necessary arrangements about fire protection, insurance, leasing, and other necessary details. What the old board of fire trustees did in this regard is unnkown and that board failed to advise. It is the purpose of Dr. Dixon to put on shows that will compete with the best shows shown in the Sacramento threatres.

Parents are very glad that the showhouse has been opened because it will save them and their children many long and tedious hikes to Sacramento.

A RELIC OF '49 IS BEING DISMANTLED IN WASHINGTON

A. G. Brietzke is dismantling the old barn that has stood at the corner of Third and Harriett streets for many years.

This is a relic of the days of '49 and is unique in the method of its building.

Old-timers say that the material for this barn came around the Horn before any lumber mills were established in California, and there is ample evidence in its construction to believe the story.

Besides being nailed, every board in the barn is held to the uprights with wooden pins, believed at the time of its construction to be necessary in frame buildings.

In addition every joist is mortised besides being nailed. In a building of this date no such expert work is done on frame buildings.

To the knowledge of many of the old-timers the barn stood on its present location since 1853, and today is in a splendid state of preservation.

Brietzke is having the barn razed to erect a large wood shed and coal shed wherein to keep his fuel under cover during winter.

In the work of demolition Brietzke and Bart Smith never ran across such splendid workmanship as was put in the construction of the barn.

UNCONSCIOUS TO THE END, FOLEY DIED WITHOUT EXPLANATION

Last Saturday, April 1st, Dan Foley passed away at the White Hospital in Sacramento without regaining consciousness under which spell he lay for a week.

Foley was injured on the Southern Pacific bridge on Saturday, March 25th. His injury was so serious that he lay for a week in a comatose condition, despite the best efforts of medical attention.

A large fracture of the skull measuring nine inches in length was the apparent cause of death, but it was felt that there were other internal injuries that led to his demise.

He was found on the bridge clinging to the rail by James and Olga Machado on Saturday evening, March 25th. A small automobile had passed some short time previously and it is believed that he was hit by this automobile and left to suffer by the driver or occupants of the car.

Indeed, there is suspicion of who the driver was but there is nothing in the way of substantial proof to confirm the suspicion.

An inquest held in Sacramento by Coroner Skelton did not place the blame on anyone.

Foley was the sole support of his mother, of whom he had taken care since he was 17 years of age. He was unmarried and leaves, besides his mother, a brother, John, a resident of Sacramento.

His friends believed that after having been knocked down by the automobile he was robbed as when taken to his home not a coin of any character was found in his possession although it was known that on many occasion he sold goods for the firm of Wood, Curtis Co., and usually held some money over night because the office of the corporation was closed.

Dan Foley was highly esteemed by the firm of Wood, Curtis Co. for his fidelity and honesty. He attended strictly to his work and put in many hours looking after the affairs of the firm when he was expected to be at his home.

His funeral was held last Tuesday morning from the Cathedral in Sacramento, where Mass was offered up for the repose of his soul. Interment was in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

OPINION

News-Ledger Editorial:

A good time to buy an apple

Judging from the empty storefronts, the Southport Town Center looks to be affected by this recession as much as anybody else. Most of the merchants probably welcome the new high school as their neighbor – it brings business. You can see a lot more teens hanging around the shopping center's stores and eateries in the daylight than you used to, and their money is as green as anybody else's. Most of the teens are decent citizens and good customers.

Maybe someday a loitering problem will develop. Some of the teens may start to hang around the sidewalks for no good reason, creating an "unwelcome" atmosphere for other visitors. If so, the shop owners can always try a tactic that seems to work elsewhere in the world: use an annoying sound to drive the kids away. The key is to find just the right annoying noise; one that bothers teenagers without affecting older shoppers.

Some shop owners battling young loiterers have taken advantage of an age-related phenomenon to target loitering teens. As we reach middle age, we generally lose the ability to hear very high-pitched tones. That's the reason youngsters can hear some of the "beeps" made by their cell phones and the rest of us remain oblivious. So shop owners have experimented with playing high-pitched whining noises from speakers in front of their stores in some cities. It bothers the teens, and, if the pitch is high enough, the rest of us never even know the sound is there.

Other shopping centers have used classical music to create an "uninviting" atmosphere for teens to hang out. Or they play some Barry Manilow (really).

When you hear the Bee Gees playing on the sidewalks of the Nugget center, you'll know somebody has changed their mind about attracting teenage shoppers.

Remember those movies set in old London, where some smudge-faced girl stood in the snow, trying to sell a few flowers so she could buy something to eat? Remember, in the movie, how crowds of well-dressed people walked callously by her, while you swore to yourself you would never be as heartless as they were?

Remember those photos of the Depression, with some man standing on a street corner in New York trying to sell a few apples to earn a desperate living after the stock market crash? And remember how sure you were that if you had walked by that apple-seller, and you had a few pennies, you would have bought some of the man's wares?

Well, now is a pretty good time to buy an apple or a flower.

Think about fostering

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month. We all have busy lives, but we urge everyone to take a minute... and make a difference in the life of a child. We all can help nurture and protect the children of Yolo County by supporting parents and caregivers and taking a moment to brighten the face of a child in our life with praise, encouragement and love. This year, we are especially honoring foster, kinship and adoptive families who open their hearts and homes to children whose families are in crisis and play a vital role in helping children and families heal and reconnect. Foster parents provide safe, stable and nurturing environments for children until they can either safely reunite with their parents or establish other lifelong family relationships. The need for more foster parents in Yolo County is daunting. As of November 2008, there were approximately 365 children and youth from Yolo County residing in supervised, out-of-home placements. Of these, 60 percent were placed in households averaging 51 miles from their families of origin. As a result, more than 200 Yolo County children spend several hours each week being transported with other children between their foster homes and court-ordered visits, medical care and other appointments. The Yolo County Children's Alliance and Child Abuse Prevention Council established a Foster Parent Recruitment and Retention Program in July 2008 to recruit and support foster parents in Yolo County. This program, funded by the First 5 Yolo Children and Families Commission, has helped increase the number of local foster families by more than 73 percent in the past two years. For information on how to become a foster parent, please visit www.yolofostercare.com or call 1-888-829-8691. "What we have here, is a failure to communicate.", is a quote I've made of Strother Martin's character in "Cool Hand Luke" far too often, especially in the past year or so, regarding the "interface", if you will, between the citizens of our city in general, and the residents of Bryte and Broderick in particular, in their ability to try and get things done for their communities.

Now I know that there are an awful lot of "Flaming Hoops," that must be artfully negotiated in officialdom. However, at some point, some things must change for the better. Otherwise, we'll just continue to talk past one another in growing anger and frustration on both sides, when actually, there there should be only one side - the "We" side.

The fiscal constraints are large, and the petty complaints seem small, but, and I quote, "It's the little things that mean a lot.," when it comes to a feeling that those

The idea of Go Figure is to arrive at the figures given at the bottom and right-hand columns of the diagram by following the arithmetic signs in the order they are given (that is, from left to right and top to bottom). Use only the numbers below the diagram to complete its blank squares and use each of the nine numbers only once.

COUCH THEATER DVD PREVIEWS

BY DNA SMITH

PICKS OF THE WEEK

"The Curious Case of Benjamin Button" — Brad Pitt stars as the titular Button, a man who lives his life backward. He is born as a tiny elderly man and lives out the rest of his adventurous life aging in reverse. Pitt delivers a great performance and the makeup and special effects are top-notch. This film has so many elements that could have made it a timeless classic, but unfortunately "Benjamin Button" is undermined by a horrible Hurricane Katrina plot device and far too many similarities to "Forrest Gump."

"Twilight Ultimate Collector's Set" — The blockbuster "tween" vampire and sexual-abstinence parable finally hits home video. Kristen Stewart stars as Bella Swan, a young girl who moves to a new town and meets up with the sullen, pasty Edward (Robert Pattinson), who turns out to be a vampire who abstains from sucking her blood and resolves to protect Bella from other creatures of the night who have a taste for the red stuff.

Oh sure, you could pick up the bare-bones DVD, but for the Twihard in your family only this release will do. Not only do you get the Special Edition Blu-Ray edition of the film, which includes a ton of special features, but you also get an individually numbered jewelry box, a wristwatch, charm bracelet, six glossy photo cards, a bookmark and a CD of the film's soundtrack.

TV SERIES

"Gavin and Stacey: Season One" — The award-winning BBC sitcom tells the story of a nice guy from England and a chick from Wales as they try to overcome their family's cultural differences while maintaining a long-distance relationship. It's like a more warm-hearted and realistic version of "Dharma and Greg," and well worth a look.

Kristen Stewart and Robert Pattinson star in "Twilight"

Vanished Smile: The Mysterious Theft of Mona Lisa
by R.A. Scotti
(Knopf, $24.95)
Reviewed by Larry Cox

During the summer of 1911, the unthinkable happened.

On Aug. 21, 1911, Leonardo da Vinci's "Mona Lisa," one of the most famous paintings in the world, vanished from the Louvre in Paris. Almost as remarkable as the theft, 24 hours passed before museum officials realized the irreplaceable masterpiece was gone.

In a remarkable new book, R.A. Scotti documents a crime that was as brazen as it was infamous. Stealing the "Mona Lisa" was especially stupefying, since it would be almost impossible to fence the most recognizable painting in the world. As thousands of people flocked to the Louvre to see the empty space where the famous portrait had hung, French detectives scrambled to find and arrest the thief or thieves. Using the latest investigative techniques, including fingerprinting, officials pursued every conceivable lead.

Dozens of newspapers offered rewards for the safe return of the painting, while the city's leading picture magazine, L'Illustration, asked its readers, "What audacious criminal, what mystifier, what maniac collector, what insane lover, has committed this adduction?"

A year after the theft, the officials of the Louvre were forced to confront the possibility that the masterpiece might be gone forever, and a portrait by Raphael filled the space where the Mona Lisa had originally hung. Even though false leads occasionally surfaced, it wasn't until November of 1913 — more than two years after the theft — that an art dealer in Florence received a letter that sounded promising. It said the "Mona Lisa" had been stolen so that it could be returned to Italy. The author of the letter, Vincenzo Perugia, eventually produced the picture from the bottom of a trunk in his hotel room, and he was promptly arrested.

R.A. Scotti combines her skills as historian and novelist to re-create this sensational crime, which has all the twists and turns of a mystery novel, except that it's true.

Oven-Baked Pancakes a Sweet Start for Mother's Day

I've received a number of oddly shaped clay bowls, macaroni artwork, lovingly drawn crayon pictures, commercially printed cards and other tokens of affection from my family for Mother's Day. One of my favorite gifts is the special breakfast my husband, Michael, prepares for me on holidays. My husband's culinary skills are limited to making an amazing cup of coffee and breakfast food, so I look forward to the masterpieces he makes on special occasions.

The tradition of a special holiday just for mothers began in the United States more than 150 years ago. In 1858, Anna Reeves Jarvis wanted to raise awareness about the poor health conditions in Appalachia. She started "Mother's Work Day Clubs" to improve sanitary conditions in towns in both the North and the South, and to control a typhoid outbreak in both Union and Confederate encampments. Reeves also began a "Mothers' Friendship Day" to reconcile families divided by the Civil War.

In 1872, Julia Ward Howe, author of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," began organizing an official Mother's Day on June 2 celebrating peace and as a protest against the futility of one mother's son killing another during the Civil War. This more-political observation of Mother's Day soon died out.

In 1905, after Anna Reeves Jarvis' death, her daughter, Anna M. Jarvis, began a campaign to recognize her mother's work and to honor her memory. It took years, but in 1914, President Woodrow Wilson signed a bill recognizing Mother's Day as a national holiday. The House of Representatives also adopted a resolution recommending that officials of the federal government wear white carnations on Mother's Day.

Throughout the years, my favorite Mother's Day gifts have always been the ones that are hand-written and homemade. This year, I'm looking forward to another one of Michael's special breakfasts. This recipe for Oven-Baked Pancakes With Fruit Compote is easy to prepare. It will provide a sweet start to your celebration and a much-needed break from the kitchen for mothers everywhere.

OVEN-BAKED PANCAKES WITH FRUIT COMPOTE

These pancakes have a texture similar to a crepe. For a more densely textured pancake, double the recipe.

- 4 large eggs
- 1 cup vanilla soy milk
- 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
- 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon sugar or sugar substitute
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 tablespoon vegetable oil or melted butter for pans

1. Preheat oven to 425 F. Pour vegetable oil or melted butter into two 9-inch cake pans; place in oven to preheat. Meanwhile, in a large bowl, beat the eggs for about 2 minutes, and then add soy milk, oil and lemon juice. Beat for 15 seconds more.

2. In a separate bowl, mix flour, sugar, salt and nutmeg. Pour milk mixture into flour mixture, and mix until just combined (DO NOT OVERMIX!); batter will be lumpy.

3. Carefully divide batter evenly between the pre-heated pans. Bake for 15 to 20 minutes, or until sides of the pancake are barely golden brown, lightly crisp around the edges and puffed up. Remove the pancakes from the oven. Loosen edges and allow them to cool slightly. Serve topped with fruit compote. Yields 4 to 6 servings.

BAKED FRUIT COMPOTE

- 3 large Granny Smith apples, peeled, cored and diced
- 1 can unsweetened pineapple (diced, with juice)
- 1 cup raisins
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- 1/2 cup brown sugar or brown sugar substitute
- 1 teaspoon freshly squeezed lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon lemon zest
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon butter
- 1/2 cup vanilla yogurt, optional

Preheat oven to 450 F. Lightly butter a 9-inch baking dish. Peel, core and dice the apples. In a bowl, mix the apples, pineapple and juice, raisins, pecans, brown sugar, lemon juice, lemon zest, ginger, cinnamon and nutmeg together. Pour into buttered baking pan and bake until apples are tender, about 20 minutes. Serve with oven-baked pancakes and top with yogurt, if desired.

NOTE: Zest the lemons first, then roll lemons to soften them, and then juice. After removing fruit compote from oven, stir it to re-distribute the juices.

Meat and Potatoes

A great quick and easy meat and potato dish that is sure to please everyone at the table.

- 4 3/4 cups (24 ounces) diced cooked potatoes
- 8 ounces extra-lean ground sirloin beef or turkey breast
- 3/4 cup chopped onion
- 1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce
- 1 (15-ounce) can diced tomatoes, undrained
- 2 teaspoons chili seasoning
- 1 tablespoon Splenda Granular
- 1 (8-ounce) can kidney beans, rinsed and drained
- 1 cup cubed Velveeta Light processed cheese

In a large skillet sprayed with butter-flavored cooking spray, sauté potatoes for 10 minutes. Meanwhile, in another large skillet sprayed with butter-flavored cooking spray, brown meat and onion. Stir in tomato sauce, undrained tomatoes, chili seasoning and Splenda. Add kidney beans and Velveeta cheese. Mix well to combine. Continue cooking until cheese melts and potatoes are browned, stirring both often. For each serving, place 2/3 cup potatoes on a serving plate and spoon about 3/4 cup chili mixture over top. Serves 6.

Mandarin Orange Salad

Almond Brittle
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1/2 cup sliced almonds

Raspberry Vinaigrette
- 1/4 cup raspberry vinegar
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper
- 1 tablespoon chopped fresh parsley leaves
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon hot pepper sauce
- 1/4 cup vegetable oil

Salad
- 1/2 medium head iceberg lettuce, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 1 romaine heart, cut crosswise into 1/2-inch pieces
- 2 large stalks celery, cut cross wise into 1/4-inch slices
- 3 green onions, chopped
- 1 can (11 ounces) Mandarin orange segments, drained

1. Prepare almond brittle:

Line cookie sheet or jelly-roll pan with parchment paper. In 1-quart saucepan, heat sugar over medium heat 3 to 5 minutes or until melted and light amber in color, swirling pan occasionally. Remove saucepan from heat; add almonds and stir until coated. Spread almond mixture on parchment-lined cookie sheet; cool completely. When cool, break into 1/2-inch pieces.

2. Meanwhile, prepare raspberry vinaigrette:

In small bowl, with wire whisk, mix vinegar, sugar, parsley, salt, pepper and hot pepper sauce. In thin, steady stream, whisk in oil until blended.

3. Prepare salad:

In large salad bowl, combine iceberg, romaine, celery, green onions and Mandarin orange segments.

4. To serve, gently toss lettuce mixture with vinaigrette. Sprinkle with brittle pieces.

6 servings.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF Santiago Rivas Fuentes
CASE NUMBER PB09-69

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of Santiago Rivas Fuentes:

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Yolo County Public Administrator in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Yolo County Public Administrator be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: June 8, 2009, at 9:00 a.m., in Dept. 15, at Superior Court of California, County of Yolo, 1100 Main St., Suite 300, Woodland CA 95695.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a "Request for Special Notice" (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A "Request for Special Notice" form is available from the court clerk.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO ADOPT A MITIGATED NEGATIVE DECLARATION

A Mitigated Negative Declaration has been prepared for the proposed Wastewater Treatment Plant decommissioning project in the City of West Sacramento. The lead agency for the proposed project is the City of West Sacramento.

The City of West Sacramento proposes to decommission its existing wastewater treatment plant (WWTP) located at 1991 South River Road. As of October 31, 2007, wastewater flow has been diverted to the Sacramento Regional County Sanitation District's (SRCSD) Elk Grove treatment facility. The WWTP is currently owned and managed by the City, and includes the City's Public Works Corporation Yard. This project involves the decommissioning and demolition of the WWTP and the Corporation Yard including all facilities, structures, piping, and other components located above ground and below ground to a depth of approximately twenty feet, with the exception of the outfall structure at the Sacramento River, which would be capped and left in place. At the conclusion of demolition activities, the site would be graded and seeded with native vegetation. Future use of the site is unknown at this time.

The Mitigated Negative Declaration concludes that with the implementation of recommended mitigation measures, there will be no significant adverse impacts on the environment. Copies of the Mitigated Negative Declaration are on file in the office of the West Sacramento Public Works and Community Development Department at 1110 West Capitol Avenue, 2nd Floor, West Sacramento, CA 95691 (916-617-4645).

Any affected or interested parties may submit comments to the Public Works and Community Development Department no later than 5 P.M. on May 22, 2009.

The West Sacramento City Council will consider a resolution recommending adoption of the Mitigated Negative Declaration on June 10, 2009 in the City Council chambers located at 1110 West Capitol Avenue, West Sacramento, California, at 7:00 p.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard. Please contact the Public Works and Community Development Department to confirm the time and date of the meeting.
